

Contents

Foreword vii

Geoffrey Yeo

Figures and tables xi

Acknowledgements xiii

Introduction xv

About the book xvii

Additional resources xx

Striving for diversity and balance xxi

1 What are archives? 1

From knowledge to record 2

Content, structure and context 6

From records to archives 11

The form of archives 13

Archives and artefacts 17

Why keep archives? 19

2 Archival institutions: creatures of history and culture 27

- Archives, power and the people 28
- The concept of the fonds 29
- Types of archival institution 35

3 Archival service: a matter of trust 45

- The duties of the archivist 46
- The skills of the archivist 47
- Archival codes of ethics 48
- The impact of legislation 51
- Developing a policy framework 59
- Matters of administration 63

4 Protecting archives 73

- What is preservation? 74
- Understanding and responding to archival hazards 75
- Developing a preservation plan 83
- Emergency planning 87
- Storing media materials 88

5 Provenance, original order and respect des fonds 97

- The principle of provenance 98
- The principle of original order 100
- The principle of respect des fonds 101
- The concept of the fonds 103
- Challenging traditional perspectives 103
- Assigning names 112

6 Appraising and acquiring archives 115

- Appraisal for acquisition 116
- Appraisal for selection 121
- Sampling, weeding and culling 124
- Other appraisal considerations 126
- Acquiring archives 131
- Accessioning archives 138
- Deaccessioning 141
- Monetary appraisal 142

7 Arranging and describing archives 145

- Archival levels of arrangement 146
- The practicalities of arrangement 155
- Describing archives 157
- Presenting content 164
- Providing access to descriptive information 173
- Putting the description together 176
- Establishing priorities 180

8 Making archives available 183

- Equal access 184
- The reference environment 187
- Documenting reference services 191
- Cost recovery and profit making 192
- Outreach 193
- Digitization of archives 199
- Measuring success 202

9 The challenge of digital archives 205

- Clarifying language 206
- Electronic records issues 207
- Developing electronic records and archives policies 211
- The importance of standards 213
- The process of managing electronic archives 215
- The role of a digital depository 219
- Staying current 221

Conclusion 223To learn more 227

- Journal literature 227
- National and state institutions 228
- Professional associations 228
- Additional reading 229

Glossary of terms 257

- Key archival terms 259

Index 271